Let's Explore Community College!

COMMUNITY COLLEGE, also referred to as junior college, technical college, or city college

- Are primarily two-year public institutions providing higher education and lower-level tertiary education, granting certificates, diplomas, and associate's degrees.
- Many also offer programs for vocational training, continuing, and adult education. Community college tuition is much cheaper than private and public four-year universities.
- Many choose this route as it offers several benefits.
- After graduating from community college, students can transfer to a four-year college or university needing just two to three years to complete a bachelor's degree.
- Before transferring, it is important to follow The Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC).
- IGETC is a series of courses that California community college students can complete to satisfy freshman/sophomore level general education requirements.
- Cost of Tuition & Other Expenses: ~ $3,500/year.
- Per semester, tuition alone is $552 per 12 units or $46 per unit, If you're a California resident.
