ALAMEDA COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT'S

The Roadshow

We Believe...

All Children Deserve the Best Start in Life

Health Equity

We believe...everyone in Alameda County, no matter where you live, how much money you make, or the color of your skin, has access to the same opportunities to lead a healthy, fulfilling and productive life.

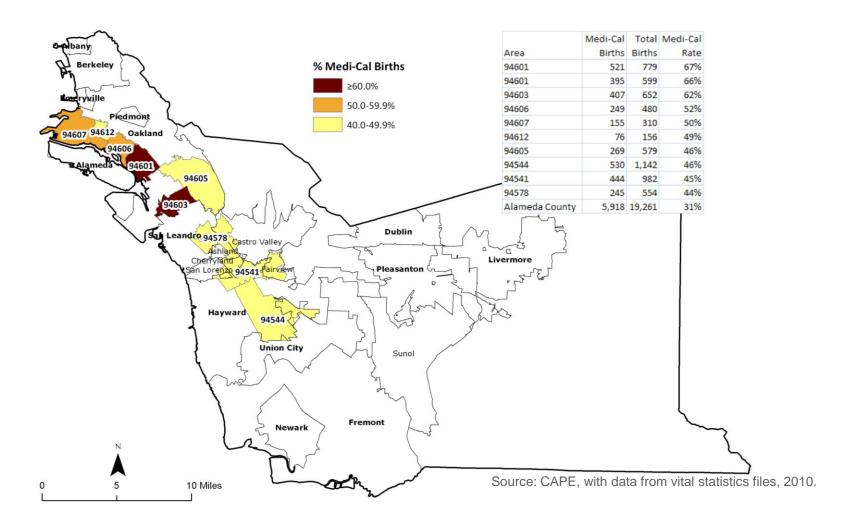

Our Approach:

Build upon the unique strength of our community and harnesses the collective will to create conditions where every child can thrive.

1 in 3 babies born into families that are struggling to make ends meet

Race, Income, and Place Impact Health: Life Course Perspective

Compared to a White child in the affluent Oakland Hills, an African American born in high-poverty West Oakland is...

2 times more likely to be born low birth weight

12 times less likely to have a mother who graduated from college

13 times more likely to live in poverty

4 times less likely to read at grade level by third grade

5 times more likely to be unemployed

3 times more likely to die of stroke

INFANT

CHILD

ADULT

Cumulative impact: 14 year difference in life expectancy

Source: Alameda County Death files, 2010-2012; Alameda County Birth files, 2009-2011; American Community Survey, 2007-2011; California Dept of Education, 2012-2013

From Portrait to Landscape

Our health problems are not isolated.

Our solutions shouldn't be either.

The groundwork for good health requires the contributions of many sectors

Economics

- Neighborhood poverty = lower early school readiness and poorer long-term academic attainment.
- Family savings of as little as $3,000 = higher odds of high school graduation.
- A 1% increase in wealth = a 5% boost to a young man's chance of escaping a low-wage job.

Health

- Being born healthy weight = healthy physical, social, and intellectual development.
- Low birth weight = heightened risks for problems in school as early as kindergarten.

Education

- Pre-K education = more likely to graduate high school.
- Pre-K education can help working families by saving money on daycare.

Physical Environment

 Community design that encourages walking and biking promotes physical activity and reduces obesity.

Community

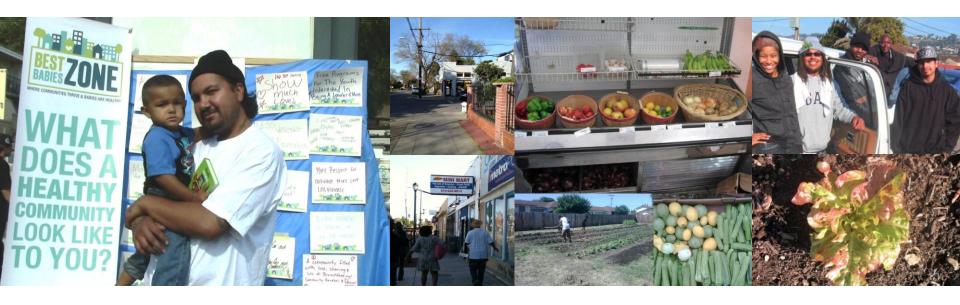

- More social support = better health
- Neighborhood education = higher life expectancy

BBC Collaborative Projects

Alameda County
Prosperity
Project

Food to Families

Best Babies Zone

Bill of Rights

All children in Alameda County have a right to be born healthy, and to:

- be believed in
- 2. live, play and grow in a clean, safe place
- 3. receive a quality education
- 4. be loved by a caring adult
- 5. eat healthy food
- 6. explore nature
- 7. enjoy economic opportunity and financial security

- 8. access health care that promotes well-being
- be free from discrimination and violence
- 10.be included & valued by a supportive community

Building Blocks Collaborative Accomplishments since September 2009

- Engaged more than 300 individuals from Alameda County organizations
- Created a space for learning, sharing, and lifting up best-practices across sectors
- Foster and maintain the cross-sector community collaborative that comes together every other month
- Received funding from Robert Wood Johnson, Kellogg, Kaiser, Kresge, and The California Wellness Foundations for our strategic work

BBC Steering Committee

Wendy Calimag

Girls Inc.

Mariela Cedeño

Mandela Marketplace

Lisa Erickson

First Five

Michelle Grant-Groves

Early Education Specialist

Dominica Henderson

Oakland Housing Authority

Sikander Iqbal

Youth UpRising

Kiko Malin

ACPHD

Keisha Nzewi

Alameda County Community Food Bank

Jason Wallace

YMCA

Share your Sparks!

- After the last BBC meeting, did you have a new idea that was sparked into a specific action?
- After the last BBC meeting, did you form a new partnership?
- What else sparked for you after the last BBC meeting?

Thank You

Jessica Luginbuhl
Special Projects Manager
Jessica.luginbuhl@acgov.org
510-208-1135

ALAMEDA COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT'S

Laiah Idelson Communications & Collaborations Specialist Laiah.idelson@acgov.org 510-268-7078

